BE A SMART SIPPER

Water is the most abundant substance in the body - adding up to about 60% of body weight. To help keep your body hydrated and healthy while being physically active—it's important to drink water.

Dehydration is when your body doesn't have enough water. Being dehydrated can keep you from being as fast and as sharp as you'd like to be and can also make you sick.

When the weather warms up or when you are sweating a lot, water can help to fight dehydration.

Daily needs for children ages 9-13 years old:

-  Girls—9 cups
-  Boys—10 cups

TIP You can get water from the foods you eat. Many fruits and vegetables have a high water content, like spinach and watermelon. So eating plenty of fruits and vegetable is also important!
